Note that the comb. with Ξενόστρατος seems more dubious, the sep. type looks more like type of Μέναν, and thus, like those, the title.

Note there is a mark with stamp of this potter (from Miletos) but it has same (fab.) stamp on both handles another mark, prob. from Lindos, is supposed to be of this fab. w. rosette type in name of Εὐδήμος; no pictures, and I cannot succeed in figuring out what are the probable names.

This will be an index by eponyms, the fuller study being by fabricant.

Desirable to have it clear how many of the eponyms of these periods are involved in the study; are there lots for which we have no pairs, and does this affect the validity of conclusions.

Always watching to see whether the numbers of eponyms can ~~[illegible]~~ be increased by the insertion of probable homonyms. Or whether we can deduce gaps in production, to explain the names that are too few.
