PREFACE

The Annual Reports of the Managing Committee of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens have been published as follows:

Reports 1 (1881-1882) -15 (1895-1896) were published by the Managing Committee of the School. (The first, second, and third annual reports were reprinted in 1886 and published in one pamphlet).

Reports 16 (1896-1897) -27 (1907-1908) were printed in the American Journal of Archaeology, 2nd series, Vols. I-XII; usually, but not always, as part of a supplement.

Reports 28 (1908-1909) -47 (1927-1928) were printed in the Bulletins of the Archaeological Institute of America, Vols. I-XIX (Vol. II contains no report).

In 1928 the Institute ceased to publish these Bulletins and for eleven years, 1928-1938, there were no published reports of the Managing Committee. The Executive Committee of the Managing Committee felt that it would be desirable to remedy this situation by publishing extracts from the Minutes of the Annual Meetings of the Managing Committee for this period. Such a publication was accordingly authorized at a meeting at Hartford, Connecticut, December 31, 1941.

Fortunately, the minutes of these annual meetings have been most carefully kept by the Secretaries, Professors Perry and Van Hook. They contain full summaries of the Chairman's Reports and complete reports of the Publication and Fellowship Committees. It has been thought wise to substitute the Thucydidean certainty of the Treasurer's Reports for the Delphic adumbrations of the Budgets.

The present publication covers Reports 48 (1928-1929) -58 (1938-1939), issued for convenience in three volumes.

Reports 59 (1939-1940) and 60 (1940-1941) are published by the Managing Committee of the School.

LOUIS E. LORD

Chairman of the Managing Committee

THE FIFTIETH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS, GREECE, 1930-1931

The Annual Meeting of the Managing Committee was held May 9, 1931

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN, Professor Edward Capps

The Chairman, in beginning his report, spoke feelingly of the great losses the Committee had sustained in the deaths of Professor S. O. Dickerman and Dr. Edward Robinson. Then, after referring to the accession of Hunter College and the election of Professor Jane Gray Carter, he proceeded to report on the work of the School during the past year.

The staff of the School has numbered 9 persons, the Fellows 8, and the students 10, so that with the addition of Miss Edwards, who has been in residence, the population of the School has been 28. Several of these are resident in Corinth, but the rest are sufficient to fill all the available rooms at the School. The quality of the Fellows and students apparently has been well above the average.

Reference was made to the gratifying progress of the Corinth publications through the completion of several volumes during the year; and, also to the launching of the Journal, which was planned and authorized two years ago.

The Chairman also spoke at some length about the situation at Corinth; the work being done in the main excavation area, in the Kerameikos, near the entrance to Acrocorinth where important discoveries have again been made, and in the region where the search for the Asklepieion has apparently been successful. Also of Dr. Shear's discovery of beehive tombs of the Roman period, and his continued search for prehistoric tombs. He then spoke of the problems connected with the building of the new Museum at Corinth, work on which will be begun this summer, and upon the measures which must be taken with Oakley House to render it safe since the earthquake of January, and the necessity of building a dormitory annex, for which the Trustees have provided the money.

The status of the excavation of the Athenian Agora was gone into in some detail. Problems of personnel connected with the Athenian staff were touched upon, particularly the appointment of Professor Stillwell as Director to succeed Professor Carpenter in 1932, the appointment of Professor Lowe to succeed Dr. Scoggin as Librarian of the Gennadeion on July 1, 1931, and the search which is being made for an additional assistant in the Gennadius Library.

The present financial condition of the School as exhibited in the Treasurer's last Report was then taken up. The Report shows a total of $1,434,738.17 in the hands of the Treasurer, this including not only permanent funds but also considerable sums awaiting expenditure for special objects, such as the Agora excavation. The Treasurer reports the present income of the School as in the neighborhood of $90,000, of which the Trustees think it prudent to allow the Managing Committee approximately $60,000 for the coming year. As to the campaign for endowment, it is estimated that about $55,000 is still required in order to meet the conditions of the International Education Board. The status of the three Fellowship Funds which are being accumulated was also mentioned, the present total being about $45,000, and the amount required before they can be put to use, $90,000. Mention was also made of the special gifts which have been received during the year, both for the permanent endowment and also for special uses.

In general the School was reported as in admirable condition, as to the physical condition of its property, the provision of means to support its most necessary operations, and the scholarly work being produced by staff and students.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The Executive Committee reported as follows:

Actions taken since the Annual Meeting of May, 1930

June, 1930: The plan for the organization of a Summer School at Athens, suggested by Professor L. E. Lord, as follows, was approved:

1. The session is to be limited to six weeks.
2. This time is to be divided in the following manner:
 - a) A northern trip. This would occupy a little less than a week. The sites studied would be Thebes, Delphi, Gla, or Orchomenos and Eretria. The historical battle-fields in this region would also be visited.
 - b) A trip to the Peloponnesus, including Olympia, occupying about ten days or two weeks. The sites to be visited would be Corinth, Nemea, Mycenae, Tiryns, Epidaurus, Sparta, Tegea, Messene, Pylos, Olympia.
 - c) The remainder of the time would be devoted to Athens and Attica.
 - d) An excursion to Crete, occupying four or five days, to be made as a post-session activity.
3. The tuition fee to be $50, and each student to pay his own expenses. The Director of the Summer School should be paid a salary of $1,000 and all his expenses, including trans-Atlantic passage (the Director of the Summer School in Rome is paid $1,500 and given a room without expense for the summer).
4. The students should be housed in Loring Hall. This would increase the income of that building.

November 2, 1930

That Allan Squire and Julian H. Whittlesey be appointed as Special Fellows in Architecture for the second term of the current year (1930-1931), the stipend for each to be $700, and the work of these two men to be the assistance of Professor Stillwell in his work upon the excavations at Corinth. That the Chairman be authorized to negotiate with Professor B. D. Meritt for his appointment as Visiting Professor during the year 1932-1933, on the basis of a travel allowance of $1,000 and the use, free of rent, of the West Residence in Loring Hall.

That the project of making a scientific survey of the fortifications of Acrocorinth and Pente Skouphia, also of the city walls of Ancient Corinth, be approved, with the understanding that the expense involved will come up for action at a later time.

March, 1931

That Professor Clarence G. Lowe, at present Head of the Department of Greek at the University of Nebraska, be recommended to the Managing Committee for appointment as Librarian of the Gennadius Library, for a term of five years, beginning July 1, 1931, to succeed Dr. G. E. Scoggin; the salary to be $4,000 per annum, with an allowance for his expenses to Greece and the transportation of his household goods (the amount to be ascertained, but probably about $500) and the use of the Librarian's house, furnished.

That Professor Frank Cole Babbitt be elected Visiting Professor at the School for 1931-1932, in place of Professor R. C. Flickinger, resigned.

That the Secretary of the Managing Committee be authorized to express to Professor Jane Gray Carter of Hunter College the Committee's appreciation of her gift of $5,000 to the School's endowment for the purpose of enabling Hunter College to become associated with the School as a Supporting Institution; and that Professor Carter be recommended to the Managing Committee for election to its membership as the representative of Hunter College.

Action taken May 8, 1931:

It was voted:

To recommend to the Managing Committee

1. The acceptance of Hunter College, New York, as a "Supporting Institution";
2. The election of Professor Jane Gray Carter as the representative on the Managing Committee of Hunter College;
3. The election of Professor J. O. Lofberg of Oberlin College as a second representative of that institution on the Managing Committee;

4. The election of Professors Carroll N. Brown of the College of the City of New York and L. A. Post of Haverford College as members of the Executive Committee for the term of three years, to succeed Professors Campbell Bonner and Alice Walton, whose terms have expired.

On motion, the actions taken by the Executive Committee as reported were approved, and the recommendations adopted.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

Professor Lord reported that ten graduate students and one junior student had already registered for the Summer School.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATIONS

PROFESSOR GEORGE H. CHASE, Chairman

May 9, 1931

Since the last report of the Committee the following Papers of the School have been published in the "American Journal of Archaeology":

In Volume XXXIV, 1930-

S. B. Luce, "Studies of the Exploits of Herakles on Vases," II, pages 313-333;

T. Leslie Shear, "Excavations in the North Cemetery at Corinth," pages 334-343;

Ferdinand J. deWaele, "The Roman Market North of the Temple at Corinth," pages 432-454.

In Volume XXXV, 1931-

Agnes Newhall, "The Corinthian Kerameikos," pages 1-30;

Jotham Johnson, "A Revision of I.G., I², 310," pages 31-43.

The sale of the publications of the School has been quite satisfactory. The figures are as follows:

	Reported by Harvard Univ. Press	Reported from Athens	Total
The Argive Heraeum	1	—	1
The Athenian Calendar	15	8	23
Corinth, Vol. III, 1 (Acrocorinth)	44	5	49
Corinth, Vol. IV, 1 (Architectural)	31	5	36
Corinth, Vol. IV, 2 (Terracotta Lamps)	41	4	45
Corinth, Vol. V (Roman Villa)	49	—	49
The Erechtheum	7	—	7
Explorations in Mochlos	4	—	4

Guide to Corinth	4	384	388
Korakou	8	—	8
Sculpture of the Nike	66	59	125
Temple Parapet
Selected Bindings	2	—	2
Zygouries	9	—	9

To these figures perhaps should be added the statement that previous to April 15, 1930, 233 copies of the Guide to Corinth were sold in Athens, and 23 copies of the Sculpture of the Nike Temple Parapet.

In the publications of the results of excavations at Corinth, as the list of sales shows, encouraging progress has been made in the course of the year. Volume III, 1, The Acrocorinth, by Messrs. Blegen, Stillwell, Broneer and Bellinger, Volume IV, 2, Terracotta Lamps, by Mr. Broneer, Volume V, The Roman Villa, by Mr. Shear, have all been published. The first two were under the supervision of the Publication Committee. The third was written and seen through the press by Mr. Shear. The first copies of Professor Diez' Mosaics of Hosios Lucas and Daphni have just reached this country.

Substantial progress has been made with several other volumes. Volume VIII, 1, The Greek Inscriptions by B. D. Meritt has been printed at Athens, and only awaits the arrival of the cloth for binding. It will undoubtedly be issued before the end of the current academic year. Volume IX, The Sculpture by Professor Franklin P. Johnson, is ready for printing at the Harvard University Press. Volume VIII, 2, The Latin Inscriptions, edited by Professor Allen B. West, is partially in type and will be issued late in 1931 or early in 1932. Manuscript and illustrations for Volume I, 1, containing an introductory account of Corinthian history and the topography of the Corinthia and chapters devoted to the Lechaean Road and adjacent buildings, by Professor Fowler, Messrs. Stillwell, Blegen, Powell and C. A. Robinson have recently been handed to the University Press, and the type setting has begun. Manuscript and illustrations for Volume VI, devoted to the Coins, by Professor Edwards, and Volume X, devoted to the Odeum, by Mr. Broneer, are nearly ready. There is some prospect that copy for part of Volume VII, The Vases, by Mrs. Kosmopoulos, and for chapters on Peirene and the Sacred Spring in the Agora, by Mr. Hill, will be received in the near future. Very recently the Committee has approved a proposal of Professor Carpenter's that Mr. Waage assume charge of the Byzantine pottery and perhaps some other Byzantine material. Professor Dinsmoor's Archons of Athens in the Hellenistic Age is all in page proof, and it should be possible to issue this in June at the latest.

We report with much pleasure that arrangements have been satisfactorily made for the establishment of a periodical to be issued and managed at Athens. Professor Carpenter's discovery of a figure from the west pediment of the Parthenon and Mr. Broneer's discovery of the Sanctuary of Aphrodite made it clear to Professor Carpenter that, with some other articles in course of preparation, he had material enough for a first volume of the periodical. He therefore proposed to the Publication Committee that such a periodical be established as soon as possible, to be printed in Vienna and edited by the Director of the School. Specimen pages which he has submitted are quite satisfactory, and the Publication Committee heartily recommends the plan for definite action at this time. It is our understanding that editorial responsibility shall always remain in Athens, though it is possible that future directors will not care to undertake the editorship themselves.

A motion to approve the volumes already reported as in prospect was adopted.

The Chair suggested that the Committee on Publication should consider the advisability of reducing the price of the volume on the Erechtheum.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIPS

PROFESSOR S. E. BASSETT, Chairman

To the Managing Committee of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens:

The Committee on Fellowships submits the following report:

Of the four Fellows appointed through this Committee only one has submitted a report of his work, and this single report was purely perfunctory. For some years it has been difficult to obtain prompt and full reports from the Fellows, and it is doubtful whether these reports serve any useful purpose. Since the Director in his Annual Report mentions the work of the Fellows, it seems probable that the School would be better served if the Fellows were required to report only to the Director, and if the only function of the Committee on Fellowships were to encourage an interest in the Fellowships and to select suitable Fellows.

During the past year twenty-six inquiries about Fellowships were received, about the same number as last year. Thirteen students applied and were accepted as candidates; last year there were fourteen. In the competition for the two Fellowships in Archaeology there were only six candidates as against ten last year. For the first time since the war the Committee did not feel justified in recommending the appointment of two Fellows. The single appointee is Miss Sarah Elizabeth Freeman, A.B., Mt. Holyoke, 1928; student at Bryn Mawr, 1928-29, and at Johns Hopkins, 1929-31. She was Mount Holyoke Alumnae Fellow, 1929-1930.

For the Fellowship in Greek Language, Literature and History there were seven candidates, the largest number in the history of this Fellowship. Four of these had nearly completed the work for their doctor's degree. The Committee recommended for appointment to this Fellowship Mr. Mitchell Levensohn, B.A., Yale, 1928, and a candidate for the Ph.D. at the coming commencement. Mr. Levensohn was valedictorian of his class, and specialized in Latin and Greek, in which he took many prizes. He holds both the Soldiers Memorial Fellowship and the Berkeley and Bristed Scholarships. His examinations showed a fine quality of scholarship, and Professor Harmon and others who have known him at Yale speak highly of his general fitness for the Fellowship.

The Committee again asks for the hearty cooperation of the members of the Managing Committee in suggesting to properly prepared students the advantages of the Fellowships. What can be accomplished in this way is illustrated by the response of one member, Professor Means, to the letter which this Committee sent out last fall to every member of the Managing Committee. Professor Means wrote to all Bowdoin students who had excelled in Greek during recent years, calling their attention to the opportunities offered by the Fellowships. Professor Means's letter resulted immediately in inquiries by two students, one of whom was later accepted as a candidate. The interest thus stimulated is likely to have even greater results, by bringing to the attention of so many students the advantages of studying at the School.

The Committee desires to record its obligation to the following scholars for the time and trouble cheerfully given to making out the examination questions and reading the examination papers: Professor C. P. Bill, Dean H. L. Crosby, Professors P. H. Davis and Sidney N. Deane, Mrs. Joseph Dohan, Professors R. C. Hack, Allan C. Johnson, Franklin P. Johnson, Jacob A. Larsen, Miss Marian Guphill, Professor Richard Stillwell and Miss Wilhemina Van Ingen.

As a matter of record, it should be mentioned that Miss Lucy T. Shoe, appointed through the recommendation of this Committee last year to a special Fellowship provided by Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Deuell, has been reappointed, through the continued generosity of the donors, and that Miss Agnes E. Newhall, a former Fellow in Archaeology, has been reappointed Special Fellow.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE AUXILIARY FUND

LOUIS E. LORD, Chairman

Only a preliminary statement can be made at this time; but the Treasurer of the Fund reports that from the subscriptions that have already come in, it is clear that the total for the current year will not fall short of $5,000.

Professor Perry reported that before the departure of Professor Carroll Brown, Treasurer of the Auxiliary Fund, for Greece in June, 1930, he had examined Professor Brown's accounts and found them correct in every detail.

The Chairman appointed Professor A. B. West of Cincinnati as Auditor of the Treasurer's accounts for 1930-31. He also named as new Directors of the Fund, subject to their consent, Messrs. George C. Hirst and George Van Santvoord.
