Dear Sir,

I beg to inform you that our Fifty-Fourth Anniversary and Distribution of Prizes will be held on Friday next, the 7th inst, under the presidency of the Earl of Northbrook. The Council would be greatly obliged if you would honour the Institution by taking part in the proceedings.

This Society is the Parent of that large number of Institutions which offer in the Evening Opportunities of study to those engaged during the day in various occupations. On receiving an intimation that you will favour us with your presence I will send you papers showing the great and important educational work here carried on. You will be pleased to hear that we have very large Greek Classes. We give instruction to the young men and young women of the Metropolis in Science, Art and Literature.

Dear Sir,

I beg to convey the Council's best thanks for the kind intimation we have received, through Mr Rendell, that you will take part in our Meeting on Friday next. Lord Northbrook will take the chair at eight o'clock.

We trust that Madame Schlieimann will honour us by accompanying us on the occasion. The Resolution to which we will ask you to speak is the First, and runs as follows:- "That this Meeting records its sincere gratification that this Institution maintains its foremost position in the movement for the Education of the people, as shown by the earnest and successful manner in which it has encouraged and supplied the demand for Higher Education."

I enclose the Council's last Report and the Syllabus, from which you will find how extensive is the range of instruction here given. The number of subscriptions paid to our free classes this Session is 96: this will be to you a most satisfactory announcement.

Again conveying you our best thanks for the honour you have consented to to confer upon this Institution,

I am, Dear Sir,

"Mechanics Institutions," & "Literary & Scientific Institutions," play an important part in forwarding the ^{the wage-earning class, — e.g.} education of, Artizans, Clerks, & shopmen & women, in England.

The Birkbeck Institution is the parent of them all.

There were 4451 entries to its evening classes in the first term of the session 1876, including or an increase of 50 per cent.

If Dr. Schliemann approves of the attempt which is being made in Germany to render the spelling of that language quite regular, perhaps he might express a word of sympathy for those who are trying to do the same for the English tongue, which needs it a hundred times as much.

Милый, возлюбленный папа!

Спаси Тебѣ отъ ками на любезномъ письме Твое отъ 7^{го} Декабря.

На основаніи портрета Марии Георганты много не кажутся перво-классной красавицей. Я по крайней мѣрѣ въспрыскалъ русскими, греками и иногда красавицей. Но, такъ-какъ на основаніи портрета не вѣдѣла марину вывезти втораго замуженія, то я конечно очень охотно готовъ по-ѣхать въ Одессу, чтобы видѣть гrecанку Георганты, чтобы мажорно мнѣ и съглашъ замужъ окончательнымъ вѣнцомъ на сценѣ нел. Если Георганта много понравится и зам-енитъ много моего предѣльнаго любавъ, то я готовъ жениться на ней.

Что касается до Баронессы Б. то жениться на ней много во всякомъ случай не предвиден. Бракъ съ Б. какъ и Тебѣ милѣе въ прошедшемъ миръ, для меня теперь неважно Мѣнь не менее важно, какъ отро-ченый сынъ, я доверю Тебѣ принамерен, что и такая пламенная любовь къ Баршине Б. и много каре-на и любовь всего даннаго для любви и для симпатии. Успокой Тебя, любимый нашъ, не огорчай меня за мою любовь къ Баршине Б.

Она прекрасная личность Итакъ и готовъ въѣхать въ Одессу, куда мы давно ждемъ съ Баршиной Георгантой. Желителен же намъ (не Георгантъ) много каре-на, такъ только въ томъ случаѣ, если и почувствую къ ней сильную любовь, если Георгантъ усла-дитъ меня болѣе кѣмъ Б. и если моя преданная любовь успокоитъ осязатель. Безъ обоюдной любви, безъ обоюднаго увлеченія къ тѣмъ задачамъ она существовала счастия. Въ виду этого умоляю Тебя, любимый нашъ, не огорчай меня, если и, приехавъ въ Одессу, не почувствую любви къ Георгантѣ и если и въ силу этого вернусь въ Москву холостымъ. Каково бы было положеніе невесты ^{преданной} Георганты, если бы и женился на ней не чувствую къ ней любви и если бы она замѣти-ла, что я люблю другую?

Что касается дочери Муррей, о которой Ты много упоминаешь въ письмѣ отъ 5^{го} Декаб. то она, какъ и Тебѣ говорилъ еще Лондонъ, много совсемъ не нравится. Вообще, англичанки и новыя ~~женщины~~ не имеютъ ни то меня ни наружности ни душевныхъ качествъ. Я предпочитаю Брю-prefer, Dec. 11 or 12, at 7 o'clock? Miss Swan-and it is in hopes you can give

It has been quite impossible for me to get to Albemarle Street for your book, as I now have a Civil Service Examination on hand, which takes up all my spare time.

I am looking to receive it as soon as possible after the publication, & I will not fail to let you know my impressions of it immediately.

Hochachtungsvoll Herr Doctor!

Entgegen den meinen aufrichtigsten Dank für Ihre großen Liebenswürdig-keit, an mich gedenkt und mir ein Leugler Ihres Wortes über Mykene bestimmt zu haben.
Sie konnten mir keine größere Freude bereiten und ich ist dem, selben mit größter Spannung entgegen.

Ihre außer-ordentlichen Zusicherungen, je länger, je mehr von Freude und Friede gesätzt und anerkannt,
- gesammelt nachlesen zu können, soll mir ein gewisser Trost sein.
Wer ist mir doch am liebsten, unter Ihrer freundlichen Leitung das Terrain der Ausgrabungen selbst zu besuchen und mir durch den Augenschein ein Versteil zu bilden über Ihre wastlosen Eifer, Ihre Ausdauer und Ehlichtheit, sowie über die sorgfältigen Resultate, mit welchen sich damals Ihre Mühen gekrönt waren; — der Hingehende stand — freilich für mich — zur Zeit meines Besuchs noch aus.

Ich hatte das Glück, diese Entbehrungen an der ~~Hand~~ Hand meines Jesulief vertrauten, immergebliebenen wärbigen Freundes, Professor Köpfler, zu machen, dessen Vorkenntnis meinem Laien-Versteil zu Hülfe kam.
Um so mehr ist mir die Erinnerung Hins und mehr; sie wird durch Ihre gütigen Aufmerksamkeiten mir frisch und Gedächtnis zurückge-rufen werden.

Die Aufstellung der porzellanischen Figuren im South-Kensington-Museum wird Ihnen noch mehr Vorarbeiten mitbringen und hoffen u. müssen ich, dasselbe mögen recht zu Ihrem Auslangen ausfallen.

Indem ich Ihnen nochmals auf-richtigsten Dank für Ihre großen Güte sage, zeige ich mich mit der Hochachtung vorzüglichster Hochachtung, als

Sir, Pardon me writing to you on the following subject but I know that your interest in Troy amounts to enthusiasm, & therefore I may possibly be forgiven for asking your attention for the following matter.

There is in Shakespeare's Play of 'Hamlet' a passage commencing ^{thus},
"The rugged Pyrrhuss to the Hyrcanian ^{ne} ~~castles~~ ^{castles}

The passage appears to me to be a most important one indeed, & relates to the fall of the city of Troy, & the cruelty of Pyrrhus. The scene of the piece is the burning city and the walls are actually in the act of falling. Hecuba runs about in a state of frenzy. Grayheaded old Priam is stricken down by the pitiless Pyrrhus. The Gods behold the scene from above and are compassionate. To use a popular phrase "Heaven and earth are moved." Your kind attention will oblige.

WESLEYAN CHAPEL, Sam Smart
BARRY ROAD, PECKHAM RYE.

The Trustees beg to submit the following statement:—There still remains a debt of £2,300 on the Chapel. When the sum of £1,300 is raised, the Metropolitan Chapel Building Fund Committee are prepared to grant a loan of £1,000, free of interest, to be paid back in ten annual instalments of £100.

In order to assist the Trustees to raise the necessary £1,300 the friends connected with the Wesleyan Chapels at Mostyn Road and Walworth have generously undertaken to find two-thirds of the amount. It will thus be seen that if the Trustees raise £450 (in round figures) the entire debt on the property will be practically paid. It is also necessary to furnish a house for the resident Minister, at an estimated cost of £300. The friends at Mostyn Road and Walworth have also undertaken to find two-thirds of this sum, and the Trustees are happy to state that the other third has already been raised by the Barry Road congregation, and has been invested in the Board of Works Funds.

The Trustees propose to raise their share of this sum partly by Subscriptions, partly by public collections, and partly by a Bazaar, to be held in the month of June, 1878.

Collectors have been appointed to wait upon the Members of the Congregation, and other friends, to solicit Subscriptions.

Contributions for the Bazaar will be thankfully received by MRS. PARKER, 25, Upper Crystal Palace Road; or MRS. SHRIMPTON, Rose Cottage, Peckham Rye. Donations may be forwarded to either of the gentlemen whose names are attached to this circular, and smaller sums may be placed in the boxes at the Chapel doors.

The first Public Collection, in aid of this movement, will be made in the Chapel, on Monday, October 29th, when the Rev. J. JACKSON WRAY will deliver his popular Lecture, entitled, "Apologues and Epigrams."

Collections will also be made on Sunday, December 9th, when the Rev. DR. PUNSHON will (D.V.) preach in the Morning, and the Rev. W. HIRST in the Evening.

The Trustees earnestly appeal to all persons interested in the work of God, in this neighbourhood, to assist them to avail themselves of this admirable opportunity of removing the debt from the Barry Road Chapel.

Mon cher frère

Pourquoi m'adressez-vous des reproches si cruels, quand je suis parfaitement à même de remplir mes engagements et que le retard apporté par moi dans le règlement du solde dû à M^r Schröder de £ 352 - 11/7 provient uniquement de mes mauvais papiers en Allemagne?

J'envoie par ce courrier à M^r Schröder frs 2500, demain et après-demain ^{le lundi} le reste et je vous produirai les reçus à Schröder d'ici la fête de Noël.

Ce retard m'a rendu malade parce que je craignais les reproches. Moi, qui ne suis pas un Schröder, on me doit, dans la province de Prusse seulement, Mark 18477-27.

Schröder ne m'ont jamais envoyé de papiers, et l'écriture en communication concernant le solde, qui leur est dû. Malgré qu'il me paraît très difficile d'offrir à mon nom et qu'il n'ont pas fait ce que je leur ai écrit.

1877.

My dear husband.

In your very kind letter of 11 inst I saw that you are complaining for not having received any news from me, I have written every day except on Monday, and that was not my fault, Mrs Burnouf came and remained till 8 1/2 o'clock in the evening, when unfortunately was too late for to write. But my dear friend do not be so angry against your brother, you know quite well that the great need makes him of keeping your money, Dear God gives us, what God great necessity,

My dear Doctor,

Thanks for your kind letter. It will give me very great pleasure to meet you at S.K. at noon to-morrow.

I think I have found a new light on the golden masks and breast plates. ~

An inscription given by Brugsch Bey in his Geschichte Aegyptens mentions a gold breastplate as a votive offering to an Egyptian god. This suggested to me that the fixed composed features (often gilt) of Egyptian statues of the gods might represent masks. And if, for the sake of dignity & that stately composure so dear to Egyptian art, the statues of gods were draped in masks & breast plates of gold, the like honours might naturally be extended to dead heroes by a people who were unquestionably connected with and influenced by Egypt.

Yours very truly,

My dear Sir,

I am so very sorry to have to ask you whether you could not postpone your visit to Oxford for another week.
Next Sunday is the day of our dear child's death, and though it is quite true that time has little to do with sorrow, yet human nature is weak and I fear that neither I nor my wife would be able on that day to receive you as we should wish.

Dear Mr. Miller

After we left you yesterday we went to the British Museum to see Mr. Hewton, and though it was a great treat to have seen your unique collection and the rooms of the treasures of the B.M., yet we felt very tired. We ought to have been satisfied with your treasures. After all no book and no pictures can give one the sense of reality which one has when handling the things themselves which have been lying buried for many thousands of years.

I feel certain from what I saw of you yesterday that you have been overworking yourself, and that you should follow my example and take a complete rest when neither visits, nor letters, nor newspapers can reach you. I hope you will do so before you begin any great work at Troy or elsewhere.

My wife asks me to tell you how deeply obliged she felt to you for having shown us your splendid collection, and she hopes that we may still have the pleasure of seeing you here.

Yours very truly

I could to bring about a Reform. But Scotland an unaided individual in they will insert.

which I have bored you with

Sir, Before I submit to you a question, to obtain an answer to which is the sole object of this letter, I must crave your pardon for so far presuming as to suppose that you would have no objection to afford to one whom you do not know, and perhaps will never see, a little information concerning a subject for which, there can be little doubt, you are most eminently qualified.

For thus presuming I do most unreservedly ask your pardon.

Now in listening to your 436 (6) address delivered in the Birkbeck Institution, could have experienced more pleasure than I in reading it. The subject was one, in which I take some interest; namely, the learning of languages.

In teaching myself the French and German languages, one of the greatest difficulties I have met with, has been the want of an intelligently written grammar. Most appear to belong to that species of which Ollendorff's is the type: Words: Words: Words:

No principles. There are some the writers of which do pretend to expound the principles upon which the construction of a language is based; but it is merely pretension and nothing more.

Others there are whose pages are chiefly taken up by matter that should be the property of everyone before he leaves the study of the grammar of his own language to acquire that of another.

If I might venture, so far as to express an opinion with respect to the superiority of one grammar in particular to all others that I have seen, I would say that the German grammar of Mr Wittich meets best the requirements of a student of a foreign language;

Dear Mr. Schiemann,

I received your kind permission too late to avail myself of it, for my friend Mr. Fowler (the constructor of our Underground Railroad), this morning. If, by chance, you should prolong your labours till Friday, 21st inst. I would arrange arrange that we should be at South Kensington at 10.30, a.m. on that day.

Excuse this trouble to you (which I have taken on myself for the sake of my Engineering Friend), & believe me, always truly yours.

Rich. Owen,
